

CALL FOR PAPERS

07-10 JULY 2025 | SESSIONS AT THE
INTERNATIONAL MEDIEVAL CONGRESS | LEEDS

MEDIEVAL SERMON STUDIES

Having had Sermon Studies Sessions at both the IMC 23 and the IMC 24, we hope to continue with this effort at the IMC 25, in order to strengthen the presence of sermon scholarship at this important conference. This call invites thus proposals for 20-minute papers (preferably in English) in any subject or period related to sermon material and preaching efforts. Papers may relate (but are not limited to) next year's topic of 'Worlds of Learning', a subject to which probably many sermon scholars can easily relate. But please feel free to submit papers that are not concerned with this specific subject.

If you are interested in presenting in these sessions, please send a title and c.250 words abstract (in English) to the organizer by 15 Sept. 2024 (alexander.marx@oeaw.ac.at).

And if there are any queries, questions, or suggestions, please feel free to address the organizer.

If anybody is planning individual sessions for the IMC, I would also be happy to integrate these under the heading of "Medieval Sermon Studies", since being part of a session series would procure a much better visibility in the program.
